

THOR MARTIN ABELL BJERKE

Thor Martin is a security advisor at Hovedorganisasjonen Virke.

He specializes in crime prevention work, and gives advice and guidance to members in most areas where members can be affected by crime in the analogue or digital space. He also assists members who have been victims of crime.

Thor Martin has a background in defense, service and logistics in the IT industry. For the past 20 years, he has worked broadly with security from analysis of crime trends, investigation, technical solutions to economic crime and labor market crime. At Virke, he has particularly worked with the analysis of theft and store break ins, risk and vulnerability analyses, robbery, invoice fraud and catalog fraud.

Thor Martin has chaired the Robbery Committee in the Business Security Council (NSR), sat on the NSR's consultative council, and is a member of the Crime Committee in the NSR. He is also a participant in Collaboration against the Black Economy (SMSØ) in Skatt Øst.

Thor Martin has been a member of ASIS, the world's largest security organization for more than 20 years and also the Chapter Chair for the Norwegian branch for three periods.
